Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors
American Society of Military Comptrollers
Alexandria, Virginia

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of American Society of Military Comptrollers (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of American Society of Military Comptrollers as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of American Society of Military Comptrollers and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about American Society of Military Comptrollers' ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of American Society of Military Comptrollers' internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about American Society of Military Comptrollers' ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

American Society of Military Comptrollers
Notes to the Financial Statements
June 30, 2023 and 2022

1. Organization

The American Society of Military Comptrollers (the Organization) was established in 1948 and operates as a nonprofit professional society headquartered in Alexandria, Virginia. The Organization promotes the education and training of its members and supports the development and advancement of the profession of military comptrollership.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

a. Basis of presentation

The Organization's financial statements are presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (USGAAP) for nonprofit organizations. Under those principles, the Organization is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets:

- Net Assets Without Donor Restrictions represent resources that are not subject to donor imposed restrictions and are available for operations at management's discretion.
- Net Assets With Donor Restrictions represent resources restricted by donors. Some donor restrictions are temporary in nature and those restrictions will be met by actions of the Organization or by the passage of time. Other donor restrictions are perpetual in nature, whereby the donor has stipulated the funds be maintained in perpetuity. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a purpose restriction is accomplished or time restriction has elapsed, donor restricted net assets are reclassified from net assets with donor restrictions to net assets without donor restrictions in the accompanying statements of activities.

The Organization has no net assets with donor restrictions at June 30, 2023 and 2022.

b. Basis of accounting

The Organization's financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with USGAAP.

American Society of Military Comptrollers
Notes to the Financial Statements
June 30, 2023 and 2022

c. Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with USGAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses and their functional allocation during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

d. Fair value measurements

US GAAP establishes a framework for measuring fair value. That framework uses a hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. US GAAP requires the Organization to maximize the use of observable inputs when measuring fair value. The hierarchy describes three levels of inputs, which are as follows:

- Level 1 - Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 - Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets; quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in inactive markets; or inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means..
- Level 3 - Significant unobservable inputs.

In many cases, a valuation technique used to measure fair value includes inputs from more than one level of the fair value hierarchy. The lowest level of significant input determines the placement of the entire fair value measurement in the hierarchy. The categorization of an investment within the hierarchy reflects the relative ability to observe the fair value measure and does not necessarily correspond to the perceived risk of that investment.

Valuation Techniques

Following is a description of the valuation techniques used for assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis. There have been no changes to the techniques used during the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022.

- Exchange-traded funds: Valued at the closing quoted price in an active market.

American Society of Military Comptrollers
Notes to the Financial Statements
June 30, 2023 and 2022

e. Income taxes

The Organization is exempt from federal and local income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code on income derived from activities related to its exempt purpose. The Organization is not classified as a private foundation for tax reporting purposes.

The Organization is not aware of any activities that would jeopardize their tax exempt status that would require recognition in the accompanying financial statements. Generally, tax returns are subject to examination by taxing authorities for up to three years from the date a completed return is filed. If material omissions of income exist, tax returns may be subject to examination for up to six years. It is the Organization's policy to recognize interest and/or penalties related to uncertain tax positions, if any, in the accompanying financial statements. As of June 30, 2023, the Organization had no uncertain tax positions which should be recognized as a liability. The Organization is no longer subject to U.S. federal or state examinations by tax authorities for tax years prior to 2019.

f. Cash

For financial statement purposes, the Organization classifies demand deposits as cash and short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less as cash equivalents. However, cash and cash equivalents held temporarily within the investment portfolio are not considered cash equivalents.

g. Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable are due in less than one year and stated at their net realizable value. Reserves are established for receivables that are delinquent and considered uncollectible based on periodic reviews by management. At June 30, 2023 and 2022, all receivables are fully collectible, therefore, no allowance for doubtful accounts has been recognized. However, actual write-offs may occur.

American Society of Military Comptrollers

Notes to the Financial Statements

June 30, 2023 and 2022

h. Investments

Investments are reported at fair value and interest, dividends, realized and unrealized gains and losses are reported in the statements of activities as increases or decreases in net assets without donor restrictions, unless the income or loss is restricted by the donor or law. Investment return is reported net external and direct internal investment expenses. The Organization invests in a variety of investments that are exposed to various risks, such as fluctuations in market value and credit risk. It is reasonably possible that changes in risks in the near term could materially affect investment balances and amounts reported in the accompanying financial statements.

i. Property and equipment, net

Property and equipment acquisitions are recorded in the financial statements at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization expense is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets as follows:

Building and improvements	40 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years
Software	5 years
Computer equipment	5 years
Office equipment	5 years

The Organization's policy is to capitalize major additions and improvements over $5,000. Repairs and maintenance transactions over $10,000 are capitalized when the transaction extends the useful life of the property and equipment.

j. Revenue recognition

Rental income: The Organization rents out a portion of the building to tenants. Revenue from rental income is recognized straight-line over the life of the lease.

PDI income: The Organization holds an annual PDI conference. Performance obligations include entrance to the event or recognition at the event. Income is recognized at the point in time that performance obligations are satisfied, which is when the event takes place. Refunds, although rarely used, are permitted. Fees received relating to future periods are recorded as deferred revenue in the accompanying statements of financial position.

American Society of Military Comptrollers

Notes to the Financial Statements

June 30, 2023 and 2022

Certification fees: Certification fees include examination fees, renewals, educational courses and related materials. The performance obligation for examination fees and renewals is access to the exam, which is satisfied at the point in time of registration. The Organization recognizes course fees ratably over the course period using the time elapse method, an input measure, as it best depicts the simultaneous consumption and delivery of these services. Fees received for educational materials are recognized at the point in time when educational materials are provided. Fees received relating to future periods are recorded as deferred revenue in the accompanying statements of financial position.

Membership dues: Membership dues are comprised of exchange elements based on the value of benefits provided. The Organization allows continuous access to content, platforms, education and networking opportunities. These are the primary and material benefits provided as part of the membership dues and are considered to be one performance obligation, as the included services are substantially the same and have a similar pattern of transfer. The Organization recognizes membership dues ratably over the membership period using the time elapse method, an input measure, as it best depicts the simultaneous consumption and delivery of these services. The annual membership fee is nonrefundable and received in advance. Dues received in advance that are applicable to future periods are included in deferred revenue in the accompanying statements of financial position.

There were no significant judgments involved in the methodology used by the Organization to recognize revenue from contracts with customers.

In-kind contributions: Donated materials, services and use of facilities are recorded at fair value when an unconditional commitment is received and are recognized as in-kind contributions as revenue and expense in the accompanying financial statements. Contributions of services are recognized when services received (a) create or enhance nonfinancial assets or (b) require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills, and would typically need to be purchased if not provided by donation. The value of such services is recorded based on the estimated fair value of services provided and is classified as in-kind contributions revenue and expense charged to programs and supporting services based on the program or support services directly benefited.
